

Regulations for the Presentation of Graduate theses and Awarding of the Outstanding Graduation Thesis Scholarship in the Department of Law, National Chung Hsing University

Passed by on January 9, 2008, in the 88th Department Affairs Meeting
Amended on September 10, 2014, in the 171rd Department Affairs Meeting (Articles 3 and 6)

- Article 1 To encourage graduate students in our department to engage in academic research and enhance their academic standards, these regulations have been established.
- Article 2 The scholarships are divided into two categories: thesis publication and outstanding graduation thesis:
1. The thesis published by the graduate student must be authored as the first author. The academic journal or academic book in which the thesis is published must have a double-blind peer review mechanism and include two review opinions.
 2. Graduate students who achieve a score of 90 or above in their thesis defense will be considered.
- Article 3 Graduate students applying for the thesis publication reward must be enrolled, and their work should be accompanied by six hard copies of the original publication, including the cover, table of contents, and pages containing review or editorial committee information, or other proof of a peer review system. The application must be submitted to the department office before the end of the semester.
- Article 4 Graduate students applying for the Outstanding Graduation Thesis Award must, in the same semester, submit six hard copies of their thesis along with a recommendation letter from their advisor to the department office after the thesis defense.
- Article 5 The Graduate Scholarship Review Committee of the department shall review the applications submitted for the current or previous semester before the end of the semester and award scholarships based on the available funding, selecting the most outstanding applicants.
- Article 6 These Regulations shall be implemented after being passed by the Department Affairs Meeting and submission to the President for ratification. The same procedure shall apply to any amendments.

In case of any dispute, the explanation should be based on the Chinese version.
